PREFACE.

So much of this Index as relates to the first forty-five volumes of the Archaeologia was compiled some years ago by Mr. Edward Peacock, F.S.A. Inasmuch, however, as some delay in publication had occurred, it was thought preferable that the Index should comprise the whole of the first fifty volumes.

The Society is indebted to Mr. Mill Stephenson, F.S.A., for the completion of the work, and also for a careful revision of most of the proofs, in which task he was aided by our Assistant-Secretary, Mr. W. H. St. John Hope. The whole of the proofs were also read through by the President, and finally revised by Mr. Hope.

Further, the Society owes its special thanks to Mr. A. W. Franks, C.B., V.P., and Dr. Edwin Freshfield, V.P., for their liberal aid towards the expenses.

The Index is arranged in a somewhat different manner from those to the first and second fifteen volumes of the Archaeologia, and it is hoped will be found to be superior to them, both in arrangement and in detail.

The spelling of names and places as given in the Archaeologia itself has been in nearly all cases retained, but this will probably not involve any difficulty to those who consult the Index.

A complete List of the Plates and other Illustrations in the Archaeologia has been appended, for which thanks are due to the Hon. H. A. Dillon, F.S.A., and Mr. W. H. St. John Hope. This list will be found of great convenience to those who are desirous of ascertaining whether a paper on any particular subject is accompanied by illustrations.
